

1981

Letters (1981): Correspondence 94

Claiborne Pell

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.uri.edu/pell_neh_I_44

Recommended Citation

Pell, Claiborne, "Letters (1981): Correspondence 94" (1981). Letters (1981). Paper 85.
http://digitalcommons.uri.edu/pell_neh_I_44/85

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Education: National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities, Subject Files I (1973-1996) at DigitalCommons@URI. It has been accepted for inclusion in Letters (1981) by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@URI. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@etal.uri.edu.

March 17, 1981

Ms. Dorothy E. Desmond
38 Badham Road
Warwick, Rhode Island 02888

Dear Ms. Desmond:

Thank you very much for your recent letter in regard to the proposed 50% cut in the budget of the National Endowment for the Arts.

I am proud of the role I have played in helping develop programs in the arts and humanities during the eleven years that I served as Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Education, Arts and Humanities. The arts programs have had an undeniably significant impact on the quality of our national life. I am very concerned indeed about the effect that the proposed cuts would have in curtailing the highly successful Federal involvement with our nation's artists and cultural institutions.

I recognize this as a time of belt-tightening as our economic situation is a paramount concern to all Americans. Unless inflation can be checked and the Federal deficit reduced, all citizens will suffer. The President has proposed wide cuts in almost every area of Federal spending to accomplish these objectives and I expect to support a good many of his recommended reductions.

In this period of budget restraint, however, the Arts should not be forced to bear such an unfair share of the burden. I could not in good conscience support radical cuts that would, in my opinion, profoundly affect the quality and vitality of American life. You may be sure that I will do my best to see that these unique and vital programs are fairly treated.

Thank you again for writing me. I appreciate knowing your views and will be sure to keep them in mind as we consider legislative action in this area.

Warm regards.

Ever sincerely,

~~Clairborne Pell~~

Clairborne Pell

AC/ap